GREEN HOPE SCHOOL ROAD IN CARY TO TEMPORARILY CLOSE FOR REALIGNMENT CONSTRUCTION

RALEIGH — A portion of Green Hope School Road in Cary will be closed between 8 p.m. on Friday and 6 a.m. on Sunday. The closure between N.C. 55 and Green Level Church Road will allow the contractor for the N.C. Turnpike Authority's Triangle Expressway project to pave and stripe within the existing travel lanes for the new alignment of the road. The closure will provide a safer environment for both the motorists and construction crews by removing traffic from the work zone.

Detour signs will send traffic along N.C. 55, Green Level West Road and Green Level Church Road. Once the work is complete, the road and newly-constructed bridge will be opened to traffic in its final alignment. This is the final phase of major work to take place on Green Hope School Road for the Expressway.

NCDOT reminds motorists to watch signs for construction information, stay alert and obey the posted speed limit.
